A chance to get involved with the Independent Advisory Group

Dear Resident,

Northamptonshire Police are currently looking for people in the community to become Members of the Independent Advisory Group (IAG).

IAGs have been a feature of policing in the UK, since the end of the 1990s. The MacPherson report into the tragic circumstances of the murder of Steven Lawrence created a challenge for the police service nationally, to make sure they had in place a more effective process to facilitate genuine partnerships with local communities to encourage more active involvement of and with people from the full range of diverse groups.

If you are interested in being part of this group, please review the three attached documents which explain what the IAG does and what the criteria are to join.

To become a member then you will need to complete the application form and the instructions for submission are at the end of that form.

Kind regards
